

Infectious Diseases of Rodents and Rabbits

27th and 28th September 2016

Nottingham

Tuesday 27th September

Morning session

9:00	Registration (tea and coffee)
10:00	Welcome
10:05-11:00	Review of infectious diseases of rabbits
11:00-12:00	Infectious diseases of other rodents (not rats and mice)
12:00-13:00	Lunch

Afternoon session

13:00 – 14:00	Review of common Infectious diseases of mice
14:00- 15:00	Review of common infectious diseases of rats
15:00-15:30	Break (tea and coffee)
15:30 – 16:15	Practical aspects of disease control in a large barrier facility
16:15- 17:00	The practical importance of the microbiota in rodent models
17.15	AGM for LAVA members

19.30	Reception, followed by the conference dinner
-------	--

Wednesday 28th September

Morning session

	Controlling infectious diseases in rodent colonies
9:00-9:45	Designing health monitoring schemes for rodents
9:45-10:15	New applications of molecular techniques to manage risks relating to health status of genetically engineered rodents
10:15-10:45	Break (tea and coffee)
10:45-11:15	Disease monitoring – a microbiologists perspective
11:15 -11:45	Risk approach to importing tissue, cell lines, sera
11:45-12:15	Zoonoses, Hanta virus
12:15-13:15	Lunch

Afternoon session

13.15 – 13.45	Gaps in unit visits: a review of the literature
13:45- 15:20	Clinical cases 4 short presentations by vets who have dealt with disease outbreaks in their units <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Managing an MPV breakdown in a commercial research environment • P pneumotropica • Disease outbreaks in rodent feeder breeding colonies • Pinworm
15:30-16:00	Home Office – Question and Answer session
16.00	Close and Depart

Registration via the LAVA website (www.lava.uk.net) or the BSTP website(www.bstp.org.uk) or directly via registration link