Bursaries – Several bursaries are available to help towards the costs of the meeting for candidates submitting a poster (see requirements below). These include both travel and registration fees (up to EU650) or the registration fee alone. In addition, if the successful candidate is not already a member of the BSTP, 12 months free membership of the BSTP will be awarded as part of the bursary.

For the 38th Annual Scientific Meeting of the BSTP, reduced registration fees are available as well as the bursaries. Priority will be given to individuals working within an “early career” environment, for example: stipendiary MSc/PhD students or researchers studying/working within a relevant scientific field, and veterinary pathology residents at a recognised institution working towards a professional qualification wishing to gain more experience within the field of toxicological pathology.

Applications for bursaries or reduced registration fees are welcome from interested members and non-members of the BSTP. The awarding of funding will be at the discretion of the BSTP Council.

Further information is available from the BSTP Secretariat or on the BSTP website.

Posters:

All ASM 2023 meeting attendees are encouraged to submit a poster on either the preclinical translatability of cell-based therapies or the pathology of cell-based therapies. Contents of the poster should pertain in some way to the field of preclinical translatability and pathology of cell-based therapies but are not strictly limited to these areas. The BSTP is keen for early career attendees to submit a poster on a piece of work with which they have been involved. For this reason, the poster requirements are as broad and non-restrictive as possible. There is no requirement to follow the traditional Introduction, Materials and Methods, Results and Conclusion outline if attendees do not wish to do so. The work presented in a poster does not have to have been previously published in a peer reviewed journal.

A prize will be awarded at the meeting for the best poster.

IMPORTANT DEADLINES

- Registration will close at midnight on 10th November 2023

The Annual General Meeting of the BSTP will be held as a separate virtual meeting and the date will be confirmed shortly.
